

Agera Energy LLC Environmental Disclosure Label

Rhode Island

This Fact sheet provides consumer information about the price, power sources and air emissions of electricity service. Electricity suppliers in Rhode Island must, by law, provide these fact sheets, or “Energy Source Disclosures” on a quarterly basis for the most recent one-year period, to educate consumers about their electricity.

This information is effective:
January 2018

This relates to supply only. Your local utility charges separately for delivery service.

Power Sources

The actual electricity you use will be indistinguishable from the electricity used by your friends and neighbors. This is unavoidable because everyone is served through the same transmission and distribution system. The energy source disclosure cannot tell you about the electricity that you use in your home; instead, it tells you that your dollars are going to pay for particular power plants. Since it is impossible to track the flow of electricity on the grid, however, there is no way to identify the actual power plant that produced the electricity you consume. But it is possible to track the dollars you pay to particular power plants. Your electricity dollars will support electricity generation from various energy resources in the proportions listed on the power content label.

NOTES:

1. Electricity customers in New England are served by an integrated power grid, not particular generating units. The information above is based on the most recently available data in the NEPOOL Generation Information System (“NEPOOL GIS”). The NEPOOL System mix of resources and Air Emissions information referenced above contains the estimated averages for July 2016 – June 2017, based on the last 12 months of available data recorded on the NEPOOL GIS website. The NEPOOL GIS website can be accessed at <http://www.nepoolgis.com/>.
